Lusardi Joins CNBC's Financial Wellness Advisory Council

I am happy to share that CNBC has selected GFLEC Director Annamaria Lusardi to be a member of their Financial Wellness Advisory Council. The formation of the council, which will offer personal finance strategies, was announced as part of Financial Literacy Month. Anna joins financial experts, thought leaders, and influencers, including Nan J. Morrison, CEO of the Council for Economic Education; Billy J. Hensley, President and CEO of the National Endowment for Financial Education; and Sheila Bair, former Chair of the FDIC.

Director Lusardi and GFLEC look forward to participating in this CNBC initiative and to contributing knowledge and information that will help improve financial wellness.

Kind regards,

Kristen Burnell
