

Promoting Financial Wellness for All

GLEC has been gaining momentum on its goal to improve workplace financial wellness. Earlier this month, Director Annamaria Lusardi was invited to attend the 2019 FORTUNE CEO Initiative Annual Meeting in New York. She presented in the session "Delivering Economic Inclusion and Investing in Employee Financial Health," and spoke about the acute need to invest in employee financial health.

We are proud to share that our new research work, "Defined Contribution Plans and the Challenge of Financial Literacy," which highlights the importance of workplace financial wellness, is forthcoming in the Cornell Law Review. Additionally, we had the opportunity to summarize our findings in a post for the Harvard Law School Forum on Corporate Governance and Financial Regulation.

GFLEC continues to make an impact in the field of financial literacy and to promote financial wellness for all. We invite you to join us in our efforts and learn more about our work here.

Harvard Law School Forum on Corporate Governance and Financial Regulation

Defined Contribution Plans and the Challenge of Financial Illiteracy

Posted by Jill E. Fisch (University of Pennsylvania Law School), Annamaria Lusardi (George Washington University), and Andrea Hasler (George Washington University), on Friday, June 14, 2019

Follow us on social media to get instant updates.

CLICK HERE TO DONATE ►

Global Financial Literacy Excellence Center George Washington University School of Business Duquès Hall, Suite 450 2201 G Street NW Washington, DC 20052 (202) 994-7148 | gflec@gwu.edu | www.gflec.org