November Spotlight

As a new month begins, the team at GFLEC would like to take a moment to share our November activities with you. We released a report, "Financial Literacy and Wellness among African-Americans," joint with the TIAA Institute. We also presented new research on the Financial Well-Being of Millennials at the CFPB Financial Well-Being Research Conference. And much more, as described below.

In an effort to ensure our research informs policies and programs, we have devoted time to translating our research into information that can be used by the public, commercial, and nonprofit sectors. This bridge between academic research and its application is vital if we are to improve financial literacy and financial behaviors. We hope that our work will contribute to your efforts to bring financial literacy and wellness to others.

Washington, D.C., USA

Report:
Financial Literacy and Wellness among African-Americans
Co-authored by GFLEC & the TIAA Institute

Washington, D.C., USA

$2M Award from ICMM Retirement and Saving Decisions by Low and Middle Income Households
Joint between GFLEC, Robert Clark of NCSU and Olivia S. Mitchell of the Wharton School

Washington, D.C., USA

Workplace Financial Wellness Roundtable
Co-hosted by GFLEC & the TIAA Institute
The FinTech Opportunity in Personal Finance

CFPB Financial Well-Being Research Conference
New Research: "Financial Well-Being of the Millennial Generation"

Financial Well-Being of the Millennial Generation

Financial Education Committee Meeting
Activity planning for the new year

Follow us on social media to get instant updates.

GFLEC would like to recognize and thank its inaugural corporate members.

ADVOCATE SUPPORTERS

KeyBank

MFS Investment Management

For more information about becoming a member, please contact Kristen Burnell at kburnell@gwu.edu.